Still Waiting...Why?

While inflation continues to soar and prices at the pump and in the supermarket skyrocket, Crewmembers are still waiting for wage and benefit increases and other improvements.

Why do we have to wait? Every single unionized airline worker has received raises and other improvements during the entire pandemic BECAUSE OF THEIR UNION CONTRACT.

What about us?

JetBlue earned $190 million last quarter. The industry is recovering. But we are not recovering with it.

We deserve increases in wages and benefits and improvements to our work rules. We deserve at least $33 per hour. We deserve a sick bank and vacation time comparable with other airlines and affordable quality healthcare. How about a pension and protections from unjust discipline and termination?

Sadly, we are not likely to achieve any of the above. We totally rely on what JetBlue management and what the ACAT think we deserve.

That's wrong and that is exactly why we need a UNION NOW!
